OUR SCHOOL IN ACTION

What is a school?

Everyone knows what a school is, but has anyone consulted the dictionary for a definition?

The dictionary defines a school as --

1. An institution for the teaching of children.
2. An institution for specialized education within a building.
3. The process of teaching and learning.
4. Teaching, drilling, and disciplining in a specific knowledge or skill.

Shields Junior High School easily meets these four requirements for a good, well-balanced education for its nine hundred and eighty students who daily attend their classes.

On this page is the main building of our school. As the students enter this building each day they have the opportunity to pursue their educational processes to their fullest capacity.

BOARD OF SCHOOL TRUSTEES

JAMES T. THOMPSON
President

JACK OATHOUT
Vice-President

LESTER W. SWENGEL
Secretary

GEORGE BOWMAN

CHARLES W. CORDES

DONALD H. ERNEST

HARRY SCHEPMAN

The Board of School Trustees is a group of seven men who maintain a well-organized school system and serve as the policy-making body, having jurisdiction over the school system and its employees.

SUPERINTENDENT

Our Superintendent of the Seymour Community Schools is Mr. Robert B. Bulleit, who as the executive officer of our school, carries out the policies and administrative details necessary for the effective operation of the schools.

ROBERT B. BULLEIT

PRINCIPAL

CHARLES H. ENGLEHARDT

Mr. C.H. Englehardt, the Principal of our own Shields Junior High School, is the person responsible for seeing that special supervisors, teachers, and student body maintain the highest degree of efficiency in an orderly and friendly school environment.

ASSISTANT PRINCIPAL

This year, for the first time, our school has an Assistant Principal, Mr. Joe A. Pitman. Many school matters pertaining to both students and teachers are daily brought to his attention and many personal problems are solved in his office.

JOE A. PITMAN

COUNSELORS

JANE CORYELL
Girls' Guidance Counselor

SAMUEL SINN
Boys' Guidance Counselor

To Mrs. Coryell, the Counselor for the girls, and to Mr. Sinn, the boys' counselor, goes the responsibility of the attendance and the very personal problems of the students for the best performance possible in their classes and activities at Shields Junior High School.

SUPERVISORS AND SPECIAL TEACHERS

MISS WILLMA ROSE SMITH
School Nurse

MRS. ANNETTE K. TEST
Attendance Director

Many special teachers are employed by the Seymour Community Schools to help students with speech and hearing problems, problems with vision, and personal health problems. Accurate attendance records must be kept by each school and the service of the Attendance Director is most important in this respect. The Supervisor of Cafeterias sees that each student who eats lunch at school has a well-balanced, healthful meal.

MISS CARRIE O. RYAN
Supervisor Of Cafeterias

MRS. MIRIAM EuDALY
Speech & Hearing Therapist

MRS. NANCY ERP
Speech & Hearing Therapist

OFFICE

MRS. DOREEN DEPUTY
Treasurer

MRS. LINDA MARSH
Secretary

The many, many services of Mrs. Deputy, and Mrs. Marsh would be far too numerous to name, but much of the action in our school is centered around their diversified duties.

Specifically, Mrs. Deputy, among her other duties, is the school treasurer, and Mrs. Marsh is the secretary for the school.

COOKS
SUPERVISOR: MISS CARRIE RYAN

Left to right: Betty Taylor, Lois Wayman, Avis Burrell, Marjorie Patman, Gertrude Gregory, Gladys Burchell, Margarette Pollert.

Many students when asked their favorite subject reply, "Lunch." To the ladies in the Cafeteria who work long and hard hours goes the credit for this reply. A well-balanced, wholesome meal is a necessity for the body and the mind to function properly. There can be no doubt that these ladies are helping the students to maintain a healthy body to attend school and a keen mind to master school subjects.

TEACHERS IN ACTION

ACADEMICS

STUDENTS

Here is where the action is. These boys and girls are really responsible for all the activities of the school and without our students in grades seven, eight, and nine there would be no school.

Each grade has its Class Officers who are elected by the students.

These officers serve in various capacities and by virtue of their office are automatically members of the Student Council.

Coach Bech congratulating Mark Emkes

The Cross Country Team of Shields Junior High School completed one of the most successful, if not the most successful season, being undefeated both in dual and invitational meets. Seymour swept four dual meets and was especially strong in the three invitationals.

The highlights of the year were the invitationals at Bloomington. Seymour placed three boys in the top ten to outdistance twenty-five other schools. Mark Emkes was second, Charles Fox was fifth, and Joe Hackman came in tenth.

While at Seymour the Owls swept all the first three places to run off with an eight team field. Mark Emkes set a new course record in a time of 8:08.1. Mark was closely followed by Joe Hackman and Charles Fox. Bill Acton along with Fred Hines supplied ample support by finishing seventh and twelfth respectively.

At Columbus Seymour was piled against another undefeated team, DeSales of Louisville. The Owls were at their best, placing three men in the top five to earn themselves the top spot from eleven other schools.

Mark Emkes set a new freshmen record in the time of 7:43 seconds. Mark finished second, followed by Hackman fourth, Charles Fox fifth, Bill Acton thirteenth, Fred Hines twenty-fifth, Leon Taylor forty-third, and Jim Noelker forty-seventh.

The Owls not only proved themselves worthy opponents, but were well-liked for their sportsmanship and high attitude.

Looking forward to next year, the boys will be moving to high school and are planning to make themselves known in the world of sports, and, of course, the coach will be looking for new boys to fill their shoes.

TRACK.....SPRING 1967

MR. HACKER, COACH

The seventh and eight grade Track Team had one of its most successful seasons. The team lost one meet by the smallest possible margin while romping past all other opponents. A victory in the Seymour Invitational was the highlight of the season.

Over half of the existing track records were broken. Several team members were undefeated in their events: Charles Fox, .880, Bill Acton...440, the 440 relay team composed of Tim Barbour, Tom Barbour, Baron Hill and Doug Richardson, the 880 relay team composed of Dan Botkin, Charles Fox, Bill Acton, Dan Ritz, and Mark Spurgeon.

Dan Botkin starts the 880 relay team on its way to a new school record. Relay team members were Dan Botkin, Charles Fox, Dan Ritz, Mark Spurgeon, and Bill Acton.

Tom Barbour exchanges the baton with Baron Hill on the last leg of the 440 yard relay. The relay team; Tom Barbour, Baron Hill, Doug Richardson, and Tim Barbour established another school record.

Charles Fox wins the 880 yard run again. Charles was undefeated this year and set a new school record.

FOOTBALL.....GRADE 9

MR. HACKER, MR. KNIGHT, COACHES

The football season this year was one of constant defensive improvement. With the two consecutive losses fresh in the teams memory, they concentrated their efforts on making it more difficult for the opposition to score. As the scores for the remainder of the season indicate, the effort put forth was not in vain.

It must be said that this year was a very successful football year for the ninth grade team and give them all a deserved "well done".

WRESTLING

MR. PATTISON, MR. HACKER, COACHES

Although amateur wrestling has achieved its greatest popularity within the last two decades, it is by no means a new sport.

Wrestling is of value to any athletic program because it gives the small boy, as well as the larger boys a chance to actively participate in varsity competition.

Wrestling, although relatively new in the Seymour School system, shows promise as an up and coming spectator sport.

PEP CLUB OF SHIELDS JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

MR. WINTIN, SPONSOR

This year for the first time our school has an organization known as the PEP CLUB.

Its membership is about two hundred, including the cheerleaders and athletes who automatically become members by virtue of their abilities.

The members of the club pledged themselves to abide by the rules set forth in the constitution of the organization.

Each member was admitted to the Shields Junior High athletic events by a Pep Club card which was purchased during the organization process of the club.

Enthusiasm has waxed high at the games this year and members of the club not only attended the games of their own particular class, but the games of all three classes.

The Pep Band, under the direction of Mr. Gregory, deserves much credit for its musical renditions at the games during the season.

The organization of the PEP CLUB and the PEP BAND instilled a new enthusiam for the Junior High games.

SOME OF THESE STUDENTS ARE MEMBERS OF THE PEP CLUB.

BASKETBALL.....GRADE NINE..... COACHES: MR. LASATER, MR. BECK

The freshman basketball teams of the Shields Junior High School enjoyed another successful year in athletics. The freshman teams are broken into two teams, the Purple and the White, both teams playing separate schedules. During the year for special games there is a combination of both teams.

The thought behind two freshman teams is to allow as many boys as possible to participate, thus being fairly sure not to miss any varsity prospects.

Mr. Lasater coached the White team, and completed the season with ten wins and one loss.

Mr. Beck coached the Purple team and his season record was fifteen wins and two losses.

Both coaches are looking forward to another fine season in athletics.

Judged only by the won-lost record, it is apparent that this year has not been successful. If we include judgment, individual and team progress in abilities, aggressiveness, and desire, the season picture is not nearly as bleak.

Two early wins in the season gave us the desire for more, but the problem of putting the ball throught the basket plagued us continually. Not until the closing weeks of the season did the games progress with team effort and spark with aggressiveness that we had been searching for since early season. Near wins over Madison and Salem gave us new perspectives for the remainder of this season and, hopefully, for coming seasons.

Thus did Mr. Knight, the eighth grade coach, summarize the 1967-1968 basketball season for the eighth grade basketball team.

The 7th grade basketball team enjoyed a very successful season. The boys worked hard and all of the team members played in many of the games. Seven boys started on the first team at different times during the season. Although not tall, hustle and drive led to victories over larger teams. These boys with continued hard work and good attitude should make a record which both the boys and the school can be proud.

JR. HI. MIRROR

The Annual Staff of the Shields Junior High School is proud to present this twenty-fourth "JR. HI. MIRROR", a written and pictorial record of our years spent in Shields Junior High.

This year's annual contains the most complete record of classes, activities, organizations, and administrative responsibilities that has yet appeared in our yearbook.

Due to the increased enrollment and many diversified activities, the annual this year contains twenty-four more pages than the 1966-67 yearbook.

We wish to take this opportunity to thank Mr. Harry Jones, school photographer, Mr. Higgs and Mr. Lambertus of our own Junior High faculty for all the many pictures contained in this book. Without their help this book would have been impossible to publish.

ADVISERS: MR. LAMBERTUS
MR. ROHRMAN

The newspaper, which had not been published since 1962, was reorganized at the Junior High School this year under a new name, "The Junior High SHIELD".

This name was chosen by the staff from some two hundred and fifty entries in a "Name the Newspaper" contest. Mike Hill and Mike Simpson, both eighth graders, submitted identical entries and were the winners.

Though it had a late start, through the capable leadership of co-editors Doug Richardson and Carolyn Anderson and advisers Mr. Lambertus and Mr. Rorhman, the newspaper soon moved forward with rollicking speed. It appeared twice a month throughout the year and sold for seventy-five cents per semester.

It addition to its being a worthwhile method of publicity for the school, it provided valuable writing and other experience to a number of freshmen and eighth graders who were on its staff.

SOCIAL STUDIES

MRS. HARRELL

Students in grade seven become earth and universe oriented by the study of GEOGRAPHY. Those students who do not take Geography in the seventh grade trace the development of civilization from prehistoric man to the colonization of the Americas in WORLD HISTORY.

In the eighth grade an intensive study of AMERICAN HISTORY offers the students ample opportunity to thoroughly familiarize themselves with their American heritage.

The social studies program is completed in the freshman year by an intensive study of CITIZENSHIP and INDIANA HISTORY.

The pictures of the five teachers of Social Studies are listed below.

HOME ECONOMICS

MRS. HARRISON, MRS. McQUINN, TEACHERS

In the Home Economics Department the areas of study are divided by class level. The seventh grade students cover the basic areas of meal planning and food preparation. Clothing construction and wardrobe planning are the second areas studied by the eighth grade students. These first two classes are one semester in length.

At the freshman level the students may take Home Economics as an elective for two semesters. One semester is spent covering food preparation, and in the second semester study is related to wardrobe planning and construction.

Two Home Economics Clubs are organized each year for the Home Economics students in the eighth and freshman classes. These clubs study a variety of areas related to Home Economics and sponsor social activities for the members.

FOREIGN LANGUAGES

MRS. BARNETT, SPANISH
MRS. DANNETTELLE, LATIN

This year for the first time the freshmen have been able to choose a foreign language, either Latin or Spanish. Since Latin is not considered a speaking language, Spanish gives the students an opportunity to study a modern speaking language.

Through the use of additional materials such as workbooks, films, records, and various other audio and visual aids both the Spanish and Latin students learn the fundamental principals of a foreign language.

ENGLISH

In the three grades there are ten teachers who daily encourage students in the use of good grammar, spelling, and literature. On this page there is not adequate space for pictures of all ten of the teachers, but elsewhere in the yearbook these teachers are pictured in other classes, organizations or activities.

The names of the ten teachers are: MRS. BARNETT, MRS. DANNETTELLE, MRS. DITTMER, MR. FINLEY, MRS. HARRELL, MR. HIGGS, MRS. KELLY, MR. LAMBERTUS, MRS. LIAN, MISS MAUPIN.

Grammar, literature, spelling, and seventh grade reading according to SRA Reading Laboratory activities are all included and considered essential characteristics of an adequate program in the language arts. Student participation in experiences with speaking, writing, reading, and listening makes for a well-integrated English program for grades seven, eight, and nine.

MATHEMATICS

The modern mathematics program in the seventh and eighth grades provides a curriculum for the students that enables them to gain an insight necessary to achieve success in mathematical understanding.

In the ninth grade the students may choose between a course in algebra or a course in general mathematics. Both courses are so designed to give students an adequate knowledge of higher mathematics.

The five teachers whose pictures appear below are those that guide the students in their mathematical processes.

ART

MRS. DELONG .... TEACHERS
MR. HILL

The fascination of creating, the enjoyment of expressing, the excitement of achieving, and the appreciation of the gifted are all part of the daily class work of the art student. He works with various materials to create lines, shapes, textures and colors and with these he is limited only by his imagination.

Mr. Hill and Mrs. DeLong guide the students through a well-planned curriculum of basic color and design. Lettering, figure drawing, perspective, and print making are only a few of the many activities that go on in the art room. Many examples of the students' work can be seen almost anytime in room 39 and occasionally in the main hallway showcase.

Mr. Hill also teaches a class at Cortland and classes in mechanical drawing in the Junior High School.

SHOP

MR. THOMAS, TEACHER

The eighth grade boys take woodworking and devote one semester to the study of the wood industry and the basic skills of working with tools and machinery.

The ninth grade boys take one year of general shop, which includes woodworking, general metals and electricity.

The projects which these boys make are a result of mastering the tools and machinery at their disposal in the school shop.

Mr. Thomas teaches Shop in our Junior High School.

SPECIAL EDUCATION

MR. BLITON, TEACHER

The Special Education class in the Shields Junior High School is taught by Mr. Bliton.

The overall objective of a program in Special Education is to give children an opportunity to develop to the fullest extent of their capacity and to aid in their ultimate development into self-supporting citizens. To accomplish this general aim, situations must be developed to provide the children with problems and a need to solve the problems.

Small classes and individualized instruction help the children to achieve the academic skills necessary for living in today's world. The children must be helped to establish good work habits which will include training with experiences designed to promote emotional stability and self-confidence.

The eligibility of children for the special education program is determined by tests and psychological examinations which are administered by trained and licensed personnel. The children are separated into three groups according to chronological age. The children at Shields Junior High School are the oldest of the three groups. Two classes for younger children are located elsewhere in the city.
